Received by:

I convey to the Bloomington Historical Society the items listed as an unrestricted gift and transfer legal title for the items to the Museum.

1. I state that I have the legal right to donate these items.
2. I agree that these items may be conserved, exhibited and used as the Museum sees fit.
3. I understand that my name will remain in the Museum's permanent records as donor of these materials, but it will not be with these items when they are exhibited.
4. I agree that any materials that are NOT accessioned into the Museum's permanent collection may be used by the Museum as it sees fit, including disposal if necessary.
5. Permission to publish: I hereby give my permission for the Bloomington Historical Society to publish images of items, photographs, documents or other media I have donated to them for their archives. This includes, but is not limited to exhibits & displays, presentations, video or film, digital reproduction, print media, website or social media. I waive my right to any payment, royalty or other compensation for use of my donation by the Bloomington Historical Society.

According to IRS regulations, establishing a dollar value on donated items is the exclusive responsibility of the donor. Donor did not receive any goods or services in return for this donation. The Bloomington Historical Society has tax exempt status under IRS 501c (3) regulations and is a registered non-profit with the State of Minnesota.

Archival storage and preservation costs for donations have climbed. It now costs the Bloomington Historical Society nearly 50 cents for an acid-free document sleeve, and over $50 for an archival box. Any donation toward defraying the costs to archive your donation according to current museum standards is greatly appreciated.

Thank you for helping preserve and share the history of Bloomington, MN!
